NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION

TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on October 5, 2023, at 1:30 pm or as soon thereafter as counsel may be heard in the courtroom of the Honorable Edward M. Chen, Courtroom 5 on the 17th floor of the San Francisco Courthouse located at 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94102, Plaintiffs Moonbug Entertainment Ltd. and Treasure Studio, Inc. (“Moonbug”) will and hereby does renew its motion for sanctions, previously filed at Dkt. No. 382.

This Motion rests on the Notice of Motion and Motion, the Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the Declaration of Ciara McHale and Exhibits thereto, other previously filed documents in this action (including Moonbug's previous Motion for Sanctions and supporting declarations at Dkt. Nos. 382–384), the Court's files, the trial record, the arguments of counsel, and any other matter that the Court may properly consider.

ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

1. Whether the Court should sanction Defendants under its inherent authority for creating and manipulating an image in 2021 and repeatedly submitting it to the Court in sworn statements to support Defendants' independent development defense that falsely claimed that it was from 2016 and was the basis for their JoJo character.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Moonbug renews its motion for sanctions based on Defendants' creation and manipulation of an image of Defendants' DouDou character in 2021 and false representations that this image was from 2016 and was the basis for Defendant's JoJo character. Defendants received Moonbug's letter detailing its allegations of infringement in July 2021. Shortly after that, Defendants significantly altered an image of DouDou to give him new features that did not exist in 2016 and mapped to elements shared by CoComelon's JJ character and Defendants' JoJo character that Moonbug detailed in its letter. Defendants then repeatedly submitted this newly created image of DouDou to the Court in sworn declarations and verified discovery responses to argue that the specific features Defendants added to the newly created DouDou image in 2021 should be filtered out when comparing similarities between JJ and Defendants' JoJo character. In doing so, Defendants made two key factual representations to the Court: that the doctored image was from 2016 and that JoJo evolved from that image. As Defendants knew all along, neither of these statements were true. Yet Defendants continued to submit the image and false representations for nearly two years, only admitted that they created the image in 2021 in response to Moonbug's motion, and even then maintained that they did nothing wrong.

Defendants’ deceit has forced Moonbug and this Court to expend unnecessary resources to investigate and, finally, uncover the truth. The Court denied Moonbug’s prior motion for sanctions based on this misconduct without prejudice, holding that resolution of the motion hinged upon the credibility of witnesses and factual evidence to be presented at trial. The Court also warned Defendants that they had to show that the image of DouDou was “virtually identical” to the depiction of DouDou in the Barber video. Trial is now over, and the jury has returned its verdict for Moonbug, rejecting Defendants’ independent development story. And the evidence at trial, taken with Defendants’ lack of credibility, was clear: the 2021 DouDou image is nowhere near virtually identical to DouDou from the Barber video, and trial testimony only confirmed Defendants’ fabrication. Defendants’ bad faith conduct in manufacturing evidence and falsifying the date of that evidence in sworn declarations and discovery responses to bolster their defense goes far beyond the range of permissible litigation conduct and warrants sanctions.

1 I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

2 A. The Pre-Litigation Letter

3 On July 20, 2021, before filing this case, Moonbug sent a detailed letter to Defendants 4 alleging infringement of CoComelon and including specific comparisons between Moonbug's 5 copyrighted JJ character and Defendants' infringing JoJo character. See Dkt. No. 383-2; see also 6 McHale Decl., Ex. 1 (Trial Ex. 1308). This letter detailed extensive visual similarities between 7 JJ and the infringing JoJo, including that both had similar large, rounded heads, tufts of hair above 8 the foreheads, thin rounded eyebrows, large eyes, and two upper front teeth. See id. at 2. The 9 next day, after receiving Moonbug's letter, Super JoJo Planning Team Leader Xunjie Zhang sent 10 an internal chat message stating: "What we need to prove now is that BB did it on their own first 11 already and that JO was merely influenced by BB ~ Cocomelon was published later." McHale 12 Decl., Ex. 2 (Trial Ex. 886); see Dkt. No. 383-7.

13 B. Defendants Create the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" Image in 2021

14 In the few weeks after receiving Moonbug's letter in 2021, Defendants then created 15 images of DouDou that they used to apply for a copyright in China. Trial Transcript ("TT") Vol.
 16 4 at 681:21–23. These images included the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image at issue here:

28 Dkt. No. 24, App'x 1 (Decl. of Sam Stake in Support of Defs. Mot. for TRO) (caption in original).

12 C. The "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" Image Did Not Exist in 2016

13 The "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image did not exist in 2016 and did not come from the 14 2016 Barber video. Rather, Defendants created the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image in 2021.
 15 See TT Vol. 4 at 681:21–23. The "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image reflects modifications to the 16 teeth, mouth, and hair compared to any image of DouDou from the Barber video. Dkt. No. 385– 17 11 ¶ 11. Mr. Krause reviewed every asset in the Flash file for the Barber video and concluded 18 that it would not have been possible to generate the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image from the 19 Barber video without both modifying elements and creating other elements from scratch. Id.

20 D. Defendants Repeatedly Submit and Rely on the Fabricated "2016 BabyBus' 21 DouDou" Image

22 With the manufactured "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image in hand, Defendants then made 23 DouDou the centerpiece of their defense against Moonbug's claims of copyright infringement, 24 claiming they independently developed JoJo based on that DouDou image, not Moonbug's JJ.

25 First, Defendants registered the image with the Chinese copyright office. According to 26 the Chinese copyright registration submitted by Defendants, they registered a copyright titled 27 "Barber – DouDou (2D)" in China on August 12, 2021. Dkt. No. 23-1; Dkt. No. 383-14 (English 28 translation). That registration included the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image and claimed that

1 the work was completed in 2015 and first published in 2016. Id.

2 At roughly the same time, Defendants first presented their DouDou independent 3 development story in [REDACTED] See Dkt. No.
 4 383-3. In that counter notification, Defendants asserted that [REDACTED]

7 As summarized here and explained in more detail below, Defendants then heavily used 8 and relied on the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image throughout this litigation, which they 9 repeatedly asserted was from 2016 and thus predated CoComelon’s JJ. Below is an overview of 10 Defendants submission of the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image throughout this litigation:

194-9	1/4/2023	Chen Decl. ISO Opp. to MSJ	¶ 7
194-15	1/4/2023	Yan Decl. ISO Opp. to MSJ	¶ 3

18 Defendants also submitted the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image in an interrogatory response to 19 Moonbug. McHale Decl., Ex. 5 (Defendants’ interrogatory response) at 7–8; see McHale Decl., 20 Ex. 3 (Trial Ex. 991, which is excerpted version of this response with the “2016 BabyBus’ 21 DouDou” image).

22 Defendants then asserted their independent development story in their Answer and 23 Counterclaims and Motion for a Temporary Restraining Order, filed on September 28, 2021, 24 where Defendants claimed that “[t]he origin of JoJo began in 2016” and that DouDou was “JoJo 25 Version 1.0.” Dkt. No. 20 (counterclaims) ¶ 10; Dkt. No. 22 (Mot. for TRO) at 3; see Dkt. No.
 26 24, App’x 1; Dkt. No. 23 ¶ 4. Defendants explained that “2-D Doudou’s Evolution Into 3-D JoJo” 27 was a natural consequence of the market trend from 2D to 3D animation. Dkt. No. 22 at 4.
 28 Defendants included the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image in these filings. See Dkt. No. 20

1 (counterclaims) ¶¶ 10, 14, Dkt. No. 20-1 at 2, Dkt. No. 22 at 3, 4; Dkt. No. 23 ¶¶ 4, 5; Dkt. No.
 2 23-1 at 3; Dkt. No. 24, App'x 1. A declaration from Defendants' counsel, an attorney at Quinn 3 Emanuel Urquhart & Sullivan LLP, attached the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image, labeled it as 4 "2016 BabyBus' DouDou," and asserted purported similar elements between that image of 5 DouDou and the JJ and JoJo characters at issue in this case . See Dkt. No. 24, App'x 1.

6 On November 9, 2021, in response to Moonbug's anti-SLAPP motion, Defendants filed 7 their Amended Answer and Counterclaims, which contained many of the same DouDou-related 8 statements as the previous answer and again included the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image. See 9 Dkt. No. 36 (counterclaims) ¶¶ 12, 16. Defendants added allegations to their amended 10 counterclaims, including describing that "the development of its JoJo character as it evolved from 11 the 2016 2D-model of DouDou into the later 3D-model of JoJo" and emphasizing that Moonbug's 12 JJ character had a "creation date after Doudou's publication." Dkt. No. 36 (counterclaims) ¶¶ 25– 13 26 (emphasis in original). Defendants also added allegations that they "first created the DouDou 14 character in or around 2016, which was the basis for the 3-D Model that became JoJo in 2019" to 15 support their affirmative defenses of failure to mitigate damages and laches. Id. (affirmative 16 defenses) ¶¶ 2, 5.

17 On December 8, 2021, Defendants used again used the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image 18 in opposition to Moonbug's motion to dismiss their counterclaims. See Dkt. No. 43 at 3–5. There, 19 Defendants claimed that "BabyBus began developing its titular JoJo character before Moonbug 20 was even founded" and that "[t]he earliest version of JoJo dates to 2016," followed by the "2016 21 BabyBus' DouDou" image. Id. at 3 (emphasis in original).

22 On June 10, 2022, Defendants responded to Moonbug's Interrogatory No. 10 by including 23 the "2016 BabyBus' DouDou" image—with that exact caption—and stating that "the 3D-model 24 of JoJo evolved from BabyBus' own 2D-model of a baby boy DouDou created in 2016—before 25 Moonbug's works—which shares the same features Moonbug now claims to be 'infringing.'"’ 26 McHale Decl., Ex. 5 at 7–8. The response was signed by Defendants' attorney at Quinn Emanuel 27 Urquhart & Sullivan LLP, id. at 10, and verified under penalty of perjury by BabyBus co-founder 28 Naiyong Yan. McHale Decl., Ex. 6. In Mr. Yan's verification, he stated that the response was

1 based on his “diligent and reasonable effort to obtain information” and that he reserved the right 2 to make changes or supplement the responses “if it appears at any time that errors or omissions 3 have been made or if most accurate or complete information becomes available.” Id. Defendants 4 never withdrew or corrected this interrogatory response.

5 Defendants again submitted and relied on the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image on 6 January 4, 2023 to oppose Moonbug’s Motion for Summary Judgment. This time, Defendants 7 submitted two sworn witness declarations in support of that opposition containing the 2016 8 BabyBus’ DouDou” image. See Dkt. No. 194-9 (Chen Decl.) ¶ 7, Dkt. No. 194-15 (Yan Decl.) 9 ¶ 3. Defendants again cited to these declarations and the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image to 10 argue in their opposition that JoJo was “initially based on Doudou.” See Dkt. No. 194 at 5; see also id. at 1–2, 14. Mr. Chen had previously testified at deposition that he used the “2016 11 BabyBus’ DouDou” image as the reference to finalize the design of Defendants’ Super JoJo 12 character. McHale Decl., Ex. 8 (May 12, 2023 Chen Tr.) at 19:15–17, 19:19–20; see Dkt. No.
 13 194-9 ¶ 7. But we now know that image did not exist at that time, and was created years later in 14 2021.

16 E. Defendants Forced Moonbug to Repeatedly Ask the Court to Intervene to 17 Get Discovery About DouDou

18 Throughout this case, Moonbug has sought discovery on Defendants’ DouDou character, 19 including the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image that Defendants repeatedly relied on.

20 On June 7, 2022, the parties stipulated that Defendants would produce all development 21 documents, including drawings, for each accused Super JoJo video by June 30, 2022. Dkt. No.
 22 103. When Defendants failed to do so, Judge Westmore issued an order finding that Defendants 23 violated the stipulation and that their overly narrow definition of development documents did “not 24 appear to be in good faith.” Dkt. 114 at 2. She imposed a September 28, 2022 deadline for 25 Defendants to produce all development documents, including all original and re-used drawings.
 26 Id. Yet Defendants waited until the last hour of fact discovery and after all depositions had been 27 completed to produce any DouDou-related files. See Dkt. No. 142 at 2.

28 On October 27, 2022, Moonbug raised Defendants untimely production of images of its

1 DouDou character in a joint discovery letter. See Dkt. No. 142. In her Order on this discovery 2 letter, Judge Westmore explained that she tended “to disagree with Defendants regarding the 3 sufficiency of the prior disclosure,” but that the decision to exclude the evidence would be more 4 appropriately resolved by the presiding judge on a pretrial motion. Dkt. No. 144.

5 On January 20, 2023, Moonbug submitted a request in a joint letter to the Court regarding 6 Defendants’ late production of the DouDou documents. See Dkt. No. 211. On March 7, 2023, 7 the Court ruled on Moonbug’s request in its order granting partial summary judgment for 8 Moonbug and ordered Defendants to make relevant custodians available for depositions regarding 9 DouDou videos and images at issue by March 31, 2023. Dkt. No. 242 at 4 n.3.

10 F. Defendants Resist the Court-Ordered Custodial Depositions, Further 11 Forcing Moonbug to Expend Time and Resources to Secure Them

12 On March 7, 2023, the day that the Court ordered Defendants to make custodians of the 13 DouDou materials available, Moonbug requested that Defendants’ counsel provide missing 14 custodian metadata for Defendants’ late-produced DouDou images and videos in preparation for 15 the court-ordered custodial depositions. Dkt. No. 262 ¶ 3. The parties met and conferred by email 16 throughout March and by videoconference on March 16, 2023. Dkt. No. 262 ¶¶ 2–16; Dkt. Nos.
 17 261-1 and 261-2. Defendants, however, refused to provide custodial information or make anyone 18 available for deposition by the Court-ordered deadline. Dkt. No. 262 ¶ 17.

19 On April 3, 2023, Moonbug filed an emergency motion regarding Defendants’ failure to 20 identify and produce custodians of the DouDou materials for deposition. See Dkt. No. 261. The 21 Court’s order on this motion held that “this process should not be dragged on; BabyBus has 22 already run afoul of the Court’s deadline of March 31, 2023” and ordered that Defendants must 23 disclose and produce custodians for all DouDou materials by April 13, 2023 or that such materials 24 would be excluded at trial. Dkt. No. 268.

25 G. Moonbug’s Sanctions Motion and Motion in Limine No. 5

26 On May 23, 2023, Moonbug filed a motion in limine concerning use of DouDou to support 27 Defendants’ independent development story. Dkt. No. 350 (Mot. in Limine No. 5). On May 28, 28 2023, Defendants opposed Moonbug’s motion in limine. Dkt. No. 375. Defendants for the first time admitted that the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image was created in 2021 in that opposition. Id. at 6. Yet Defendants did not explain why they modified the image or why they represented that it was from 2016. Defendants also argued that their submission of the altered image with a false date was not sanctionable because the image was “virtually indistinguishable from the images of Doudou in the Barber video.” Id. at 1. In the Court’s Order on Moonbug’s motion, it warned Defendants that they “must prove that the Doudou in the still image in the declaration is virtually identical to the Doudou in the original video.” Dkt. No. 413 at 15.

On June 2, 2023, Moonbug moved for sanctions against Defendants. Dkt. No. 383. The Court denied Moonbug’s Motion for Sanctions without prejudice, reserving judgment until the conclusion of the trial because the issue hinged “upon the credibility of witnesses and factual evidence to be presented at trial.” Dkt. No. 394.

H. Testimony and Evidence at Trial Confirms that Defendants Created “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” Image in 2021

The evidence at trial was clear: Defendants manufactured the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou Image” in 2021, after receiving notice of Moonbug’s copyright infringement claim. At trial, Mr. Yan testified that “JoJo did not evolve directly from DouDou.” TT Vol. 4 at 674:20–24. This testimony came after Mr. Yan was shown Defendants’ interrogatory response that he verified that falsely stated the opposite: that JoJo did evolve from DouDou. The sworn response also embedded the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou Image” and claimed that the image was created before Moonbug’s works in 2016 and shared the same features Moonbug claims to be infringing:

In fact, the 3D-model of JoJo evolved from BabyBus’ own 2D-model of a baby boy DouDou created in 2016—before Moonbug’s works—which shares the same features Moonbug now claims to be “infringing”:

McHale Decl., Ex. 3 (Trial Ex. 991); see id., Ex. 5 at 8; TT Vol. 4 at 672:6–16, 673:7–13. When

1 asked whether the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image existed prior to 2021, Mr. Yan answered that 2 the “character existed already in 2016” and that Defendants “possibly” created the image in 2021.
 3 TT Vol. 4 at 675:4–11. When pressed again, Mr. Yan stated that “[t]he character of DouDou 4 already existed in 2015 and 2016, and this image was simply there to indicate the DouDou 5 character. I’m not really sure what you’re trying to ask.” Id. at 675:15–21. The Court intervened 6 and instructed Mr. Yan to state whether the specific image was created in 2021, after which Mr.
 7 Yan testified that the “particular image, perhaps, was prepared in 2021.” Id. at 675:22–676:4.
 8 Mr. Yan ultimately testified that the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image was created after 9 Defendants received Moonbug’s letter in July 2021. Id. at 681:21–23.

10 Mr. Chen, the leader of Defendants’ 3D drawing department, also testified about DouDou 11 at trial. At first, Mr. Chen testified that the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image was the same as an 12 image of DouDou from the Barber video. TT Vol. 8 at 1353:1–6. However, Mr. Chen later 13 admitted that he had no idea where the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image came from. Id. at 14 1355:6–9. He later confirmed that the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image and the image of 15 DouDou from the Barber video “look different” after the Court instructed Mr. Chen to “answer 16 the question ‘yes’ or ‘no’ rather than an explanation.” Id. at 1356:16–21. Further, Mr. Chen 17 testified that Defendants did not use the version of JoJo that he allegedly created based on 18 DouDou, as seen in one of Defendants’ development documents showing Mr. Chen’s model 19 crossed out and replaced by a model of JoJo created by a different team:

28 See id. at 1376:24–1377:8; McHale Decl., Ex. 4 (Trial Ex. 979).

1 Mr. Krause also testified at trial about the fabricated “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image.
 2 Mr. Krause explained that he reviewed the original animation files for the Barber video Flash file, 3 which consisted of around 1,800 elements. TT Vol. 5 at 833:9–834:12. Mr. Krause compared 4 all of these elements of the Barber video with the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image “several 5 times” and did not find any image of DouDou in the Barber video that had the same characteristics 6 as the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image. Id. at 839:8–15. It was Mr. Krause’s opinion as an 7 animator that the only way for Defendants to have created the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image 8 from the Barber video would have been to “rescale the head wider, redraw the mouth, redraw the 9 teeth, and rearrange the features on the face.” Id. at 833:9–834:12. Defendants made no effort to 10 rebut Mr. Krause’s testimony.

11 II. ARGUMENT

12 A. The Court Should Grant Terminating Sanctions

13 Moonbug requests that the Court grant terminating sanctions against Defendants as an 14 alternative ground to uphold the jury verdict for Moonbug. Defendants’ willful fraud on the Court 15 and disregard for the integrity of the judicial system warrants terminating sanctions. The Court 16 can issue terminating sanctions under its “inherent power to control [its] docket . . .”, including 17 the power to “dismiss an action when a party has willfully deceived the court and engaged in 18 conduct utterly inconsistent with the orderly administration of justice.” Thompson v. Hous. Auth.
 19 of Los Angeles, 782 F.2d 829, 831 (9th Cir.), cert. denied 479 U.S. 829 (1986); Wyle v. R.J.
 20 Reynolds Indus., Inc., 709 F.2d 585, 589 (9th Cir. 1983) (citations omitted). “[W]illfulness, fault 21 or bad faith” is required to issue terminating sanctions. Leon v. IDX Sys. Corp., 464 F.3d 951, 22 958 (9th Cir. 2006) (citing Anheuser-Busch, Inc. v. Natural Beverage Distribbs., 69 F.3d 337, 348 23 (9th Cir. 1995)).

24 In deciding whether to impose terminating sanctions, the court considers the following 25 factors: “(1) the public’s interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the court’s need to 26 manage its dockets; (3) the risk of prejudice to the party seeking sanctions; (4) the public policy 27 favoring disposition of cases on their merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic sanctions.” 28 See Leon, 464 F.3d at 958 (citing Anheuser-Busch, 69 F.3d at 348). This “‘test’ is not

1 mechanical” but rather presents a framework for the judge on how to evaluate a request for 2 terminating sanctions, not a list of conditions precedent to issue such a sanction. See Connecticut 3 Gen. Life Ins. Co. v. New Images of Beverly Hills, 482 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2007) . To 4 satisfy due process there must be a “relationship between the sanctioned party’s misconduct and 5 the matters in controversy such that the transgression ‘threaten[s] to interfere with the rightful 6 decision of the case.’” Lee v. Trees, Inc., No. 3:15-CV-0165-AC, 2017 WL 5147146, at *4 (D.
 7 Or. Nov. 6, 2017) (citing Wyle, 709 F. 2d at 591). As discussed in Moonbug’s original motion 8 for sanctions, Dkt. No. 382, and summarized below, this is such a case.

9 i. Defendants Acted in Bad Faith in Altering the “2016 BabyBus’ Doudou” 10 Image in 2021 and Repeatedly Submitting It Under Oath with a False 2016 Date

11 After nearly two years of repeatedly submitting the “2016 BabyBus’ Doudou” image to 12 the Court and stating under oath that it was from 2016, Defendants admit that they created the 13 image 2021. See Dkt. No. 375 (“The embedded picture and the image of Doudou in the copyright 14 were the same and both were from 2021.”); TT Vol. 4 at 681:21–23. The only way for Defendants 15 to have created this image was to intentionally manipulate it. See Dkt. No. 384 ¶¶ 7, 11 (the 16 image “appears to have been constructed by re-combining, editing, and modifying various visual 17 elements used in the Barber video”); TT Vol. 5 at 833:9–834:12 (Defendants would have had to 18 “rescale the head wider, redraw the mouth, redraw the teeth, and rearrange the features on the 19 face”). Defendants have never explained why they significantly modified DouDou’s appearance 20 when they created the “2016 BabyBus’ Doudou” image in 2021 or why they claimed repeatedly 21 the image was from 2016. The submission of fabricated evidence and falsehoods about that 22 evidence warrants terminating sanctions. See, e.g., Connecticut Gen., 482 F.3d at 1094 (affirming 23 terminating sanctions because defendant “knowingly deceived the court and acted in bad faith” 24 by submitting “perjured declarations, fabricated evidence and frivolous pleadings.”); Combs v.
25 Rockwell Int’l Corp., 927 F.2d 486, 488 (9th Cir. 1991) (affirming dismissal based on finding of 26 bad faith where plaintiff “attempted to deceive the district court” by changing deposition evidence 27 going to material “issues of central importance in the upcoming summary judgment hearing.”); 28 Uribe v. McKesson, No. 1:08-CV-01285-SMS PC, 2011 WL 3925077, at *5 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 7, 1 2011) (granting terminating sanctions based on one false declaration).

2 Defendants have suggested their submission of the “2016 BabyBus’ Doudou” image is 3 defensible because it is “virtually indistinguishable from the images of Doudou in the Barber 4 video” and that it depicts the same DouDou character. See Dkt. No. 375 at 1; TT Vol. 4 at 675:15– 5 21. The Court should reject this excuse. First, despite the Court’s warning that Defendants “must 6 prove that the Doudou in the still image in the declaration is virtually identical to the Doudou in 7 the original video” at trial, Dkt. No. 413 at 15, Defendants made no attempt to do so. Second, 8 Moonbug presented ample evidence at trial and in its original sanctions motion showing that the 9 differences between the “2016 BabyBus’ DouDou” image and DouDou from the Barber video 10 are significant. Defendants rescaled the head, used a different shape for the mouth, drew a line 11 to create two distinct upper-front teeth, used thinner eyebrows, and rearranged the features on the 12 face. See Dkt. No. 384 ¶ 7; TT Vol. 5 at 833:9–834:12; see also TT Vol. 8 at 1356:16–21 (leader 13 of Defendants’ 3D drawing department admits that the images “look different”); Dkt. No. 375 at 14 7 (Defendants admit that DouDou’s “two front teeth had no line”). Defendants did not just make 15 minor or random alterations to the image—Defendants manipulated the DouDou image to map 16 expressive elements to those that were central to this case and identified as similarities between 17 JJ and JoJo in Moonbug’s prelitigation letter. Dkt. No. 383-2 (Moonbug’s prelitigation letter 18 comparing physical features of JJ and JoJo that Defendants then altered in the DouDou image).
 19 Defendants clearly believed those elements were significant when they compared them to JJ and 20 JoJo to support their independent development story. See, e.g., McHale Decl., Ex. 5 at 7–8 21 (Defendants asserting that the DouDou image was from 2016, pointing to the head and smile of 22 the altered DouDou image, and stating that DouDou “shares the same features Moonbug now 23 claims to be ‘infringing.’”). And Defendants used this image to seek substantial and material 24 relief, including using it to (1) apply for a restraining order that would have stripped Moonbug of 25 its rights to submit DMCA notices (Dkt. No. 22), (2) support their SLAPP counterclaims for 26 copyright misrepresentation (Dkt. No. 20 (counterclaims) ¶¶ 10–14, Dkt. No. 20-1), and (3) assert 27 an independent development theory in opposing Moonbug’s Motion for Summary Judgment 28 (Dkt. No. 194). That Defendants failed in their attempts to use the image does not excuse their

1 repeated deception. Third, Defendants have provided no authority holding that submission of 2 altered evidence and making false claims about the date of that evidence is excused if the evidence 3 is close enough to accurate. The Court should reject such a rule, which would encourage litigants 4 to sneak in fabricated evidence knowing that they can avoid repercussions by arguing that their 5 alterations were minor.

6 Defendants' bad faith is also evidenced by the lack of any affirmative steps to remediate 7 their conduct, even after it was uncovered. To this day Defendants have not withdrawn their false 8 statements claiming that the "2016 BabyBus' Doudou" image was created in 2016 rather than in 9 2021. See Am. Rena Int'l Corp. v. Sis-Joyce Int'l Co., No. CV126972FMOJEMX, 2015 WL 10 12732433, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 14, 2015) (granting terminating sanctions based on submission 11 of false evidence and noting that defendants "have never formally withdrawn the declarations").
 12 Nor did Defendants ever withdraw this contention in its discovery responses. What little 13 Defendants did do—admit that the image was from 2021—was only done after Moonbug caught 14 them, and even then Defendants only offered excuses rather than formally withdrawing the 15 previous false statements. See Dkt. No. 375.

16 Defendants' bad faith is also confirmed by testimony at trial. Mr. Yan repeatedly dodged 17 questioning about the "2016 BabyBus' Doudou" image until the Court intervened, and then only 18 offered the justification that the character of DouDou existed in 2016. See TT Vol. 4 at 675:4– 19 676:4. That the DouDou character existed in 2016 does not excuse fabricating evidence to alter 20 the appearance of DouDou and falsely claiming that the image was from 2016. Moonbug would 21 not bring this motion had Defendants simply used an authentic and accurate image of DouDou 22 from the 2016 Barber video. Defendants did not address the significant differences between the 23 "2016 BabyBus' Doudou" image and DouDou as he existed in 2016, much less offer any 24 alternative explanation for why they altered the image in the ways they did other than to map to 25 the claims made in this litigation.

26 As explained in Moonbug's original motion for sanctions, all the relevant factors support 27 terminating sanctions. See Dkt. No. 382 at 19–23. Defendants' deception required investigation, 28 extensive discovery and pretrial motion practice, six additional post-fact discovery custodial

1 depositions, and time at trial. Moonbug therefore requests that the Court grant terminating 2 sanctions.

3 B. The Court Should Also Grant Monetary Sanctions

4 Additionally, Moonbug requests monetary sanctions. First, Moonbug requests attorneys' 5 fees and costs attributable to the misconduct. See Leon, 464 F.3d at 961 (affirming attorneys' 6 fees and costs as sanction). Second, Moonbug requests Mr. Krause's expert fees attributable to 7 Defendants' misconduct. Keithley v. Homestore.com, Inc., No. C-03-04447 SI EDL, 2009 WL
 8 816429, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 27, 2009) (awarding technical expert fees as sanction). Third, 9 Moonbug seeks a finding that Defendants' counsel is jointly and severally liable for any award 10 of monetary sanctions. See In re USA Com. Mortg. Co., 462 F. App'x 677, 680 (9th Cir. 2011) 11 (affirming sanctions against counsel under Court's inherent authority and holding that no 12 evidentiary hearing was required). Defendants' counsel submitted the "2016 BabyBus" Doudou" 13 image with a representation that it was from 2016 in a declaration signed and an interrogatory 14 response signed by counsel. See Dkt. No. 24, App'x 1; McHale Decl., Ex. 5 at 7–8, 10. By 15 signing the interrogatory response, Defendants' counsel represented that it was complete and 16 correct based on knowledge, information, and belief formed after a reasonable inquiry. Fed. R.
 17 Civ. P. 26(g)(1). However, a reasonably inquiry would have revealed that the image was not in 18 the Barber video or from 2016, and that Defendants never even used the design of JoJo that was 19 allegedly based on DouDou. See TT Vol. 8 at 1375:3–1377:8; McHale Decl., Ex. 4 (Trial Ex.
 20 979). Further, counsel did not withdraw the declaration, amend the discovery response, or 21 otherwise take appropriate remedial action, even after learning that the "2016 BabyBus" Doudou" 22 image was created in 2021 and did not accurately reflect multiple elements of the character relied 23 on by Defendants. See California Rule of Professional Conduct 3.3 ("If a lawyer, the lawyer's 24 client, or a witness called by the lawyer, has offered material evidence, and the lawyer comes to 25 know of its falsity, the lawyer shall take reasonable remedial measures . . ."); Fed. R. Civ. P.
 26 26(e)(1)(A) (duty to correct interrogatory response upon learning that it is incorrect).

27 Moonbug intends to request the specific amounts for these monetary sanctions in its 28 forthcoming motion for attorneys' fees and costs to be filed after the Court issues judgment.

1 III. CONCLUSION

2 Defendants' bad faith misconduct in manufacturing and relying on an image from 2021 3 while representing to the Court that it was from 2016 and was used to create the JoJo character is 4 inexcusable. Moonbug therefore renews its request for sanctions and requests that the Court grant 5 terminating sanctions and monetary sanctions in an amount to be determined in Moonbug's 6 forthcoming motion for attorneys' fees and costs.
